

Captain Jasu — Shopping List

6 items to buy secondhand. Estimated £36–87 against a £100 cap. The cap covers bought items only — filament, paint, leather, dye and any make-up are materials and are budgeted separately.

NO LINKS, ON PURPOSE. Supplier links and prices live in the production's Drive, not in this repository — decided 2026-08-01, because listings sell, shops close and prices double, and a sheet full of dead links is worse than none because somebody trusts it. What is here is durable: what to search for, where, what to filter on and what to refuse. Paste the search terms in yourself.

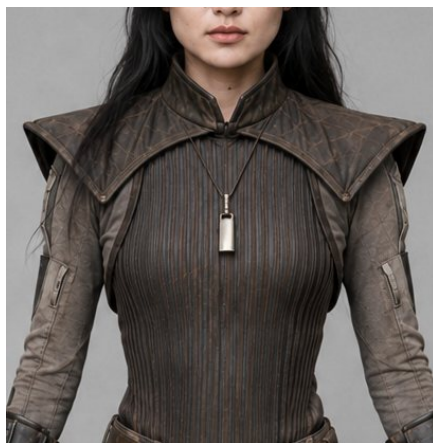

#	Item	Target

	Total	£36–87

1. Ribbed base top — mock neck, stand collar, front closure

Bought ×1. Target £3–8. Not started.

THE TEXTURE TO MATCH.
Fine, dense vertical ribbing — closer to a thermal base layer than to a chunky jumper. If the ribs are wide enough to count across the chest, it is too coarse.

How it sits — high mock neck, close to the body, sleeves to the wrist under the bracers.

Search	ribbed mock neck · ribbed base layer · ribbed zip turtleneck · merino base layer half zip
Where	Vinted and eBay. Ski and thermal base layers and dancewear all turn up constantly secondhand with the right ribbed texture — search the sportswear categories, not the fashion ones.

Filter	UK 4–6 / XS. Add "Petite" where the filter exists.
Spec	Heavy ribbed knit, dark warm brown.
Avoid	SEARCH BY CONSTRUCTION, NOT BY LOOK. A "Star Wars" or "cosplay" search returns costume-shop knitwear that photographs as plastic. Do not reject a garment for being too big — this one MUST be altered to fit her exactly, and buying it already fitted is the mistake.

2. Trousers — quilted outer-thigh panels, knee pads

Bought ×1. Target £5–15. Not started.

The trouser cloth beside the knit — a flat, dry, close-woven fabric with a stitched panel seam. That seam is the construction to look for.

Close to the leg, panels at the outer thigh, pads at the knee. Jodhpurs already have this shape.

Search	equestrian jodhpurs · riding breeches knee patch · jodhpurs brown · full seat breeches
Where	Vinted and eBay, equestrian categories. Riders resell these constantly and in quantity. This is the one genuinely good idea that survived the superseded sourcing guide.
Filter	UK 4–6 / XS, or children's sizes 26–28 waist.
Spec	Dark warm brown. Contrast knee patches stitched onto a fabric leg IS exactly this construction — it is not an approximation of it.
Avoid	Not black, not navy, and not the modern high-shine technical fabrics. Panels and distressing are added in-house afterwards, so buy the construction and not the finish.

3. Wide belt, buckle and fittings

Bought ×1. Target £3–10. Not started.

The hardware language for the whole costume — plain, heavy, salvaged, unpolished. Buy a buckle that looks like these.

Broad at the waist, sitting level. The proportion is why a men's belt often works better than a women's.

Search	wide leather belt · mens leather belt heavy buckle · vintage tan leather belt
Where	Vinted, eBay, and charity shops — belts are everywhere secondhand.
Filter	Look at MEN'S belts. They are often the right proportion even on a petite frame, and the extra length is cut off and re-punched.
Spec	Broad leather, plain heavy buckle. Warm brown.
Avoid	No branding, no fashion hardware, nothing polished. If nothing suitable turns up, the buckle and fittings are printed and only the strap is bought.

4. Belt pouches

Bought ×2. Target £6–14 the pair. Not started.

THIS IS THE POUCH. Soft worn leather, a single stud closure, a hand-stitched seam and a rounded flap — not a stiff moulded case. Army surplus sells this shape constantly.

Search	leather belt pouch · military surplus ammo pouch · leather drawstring belt bag
Where	Army surplus is the best and cheapest source. eBay and Vinted otherwise.
Filter	Two, and they need NOT match each other.

Spec	Brown leather or heavy canvas, small. Worn on her LEFT, off the drawing side.
Avoid	Nothing tactical-modern — no MOLLE webbing, no nylon, no visible branding. Nothing issued: nothing about her is insignia.

5. Leash — heavy, coiled at her LEFT hip

Bought ×1. Target £4–10. Not started.

Heavy doubled strap, a plain sprung hook, worn dark. Wide and thick for an animal far bigger than a dog.	Coiled and hung at the belt on her LEFT — off the drawing side. Never in her hand, never on the animal.
--	---

Search	heavy leather dog lead · chain dog lead · leather leash large breed
Where	Pet resale on Vinted and eBay, or a working-dog supplier.
Filter	Buy for an animal far larger than a dog. It is restraint for a beast that outweighs her, and a normal lead reads as a pet's.
Spec	Heavy strap or chain. Coiled and hung at the belt on her LEFT, off the drawing side.
Avoid	No bright colours, no nylon, no clip-on fashion hardware. NEVER in her hand and NEVER on the animal — she carries restraint she does not need, as a display for the crew.

6. Boots — tall, close to the calf

Bought ×1. Target £15–30. Not started.

THE SHAFT HEIGHT IS THE TEST — well up the calf, ending below the knee, close to the leg. Flat sole. Scuffed, creased and looked after, which is what a charity shop already sells.

Search	tall brown leather boots flat · leather riding boots brown · knee high leather boots flat heel
Where	CHARITY SHOPS FIRST — they are the best source and the cheapest, and the wear is wanted. Vinted and eBay after.
Filter	Her size, and check the CALF measurement as well as the foot — a tall shaft that will not close is the commonest failure on a fine build.
Spec	Brown leather, practical, genuinely worn. TALL — the shaft rises well up the calf and ends below the knee. The best boots in the crew, and looked after.
Avoid	HEEL FLAT, or as near flat as a sourced boot allows — a walking sole, no more than ~25 mm. A heeled riding or fashion boot is the easiest thing to find in this shape and it is the WRONG one; nothing about her costume may add height. If a boot is right in every other way, RE-HEEL IT — that is a cobbler's job and it costs less than the boot. Do not pay extra for "like new".
